

"...in a long list of courses attended, this was the best I've ever been to. The information, organisation, and the knowledge of all the trainers was top class. You took an extremely sensitive subject and made it really easy to understand in a secure and productive environment..."

AMBASSADOR MEETING 2023

On Tuesday 28th March 2023, we held our first in-person E4C Ambassador Network Meeting at Dersingham Primary School. The E4C Team updated 29 ambassadors from 26 different schools on our latest plans and delivered an in-depth session on how to navigate E4C's curriculum resources platform. Ambassadors were also taken on a learning walk around Dersingham and explored a range of design options for their own setting, reflecting on what kind of environment they are seeking to create and what might be feasible in terms of costs. The feedback we received from Ambassadors was incredibly positive, and they were thrilled by the chance to connect in person to learn more about E4C's upcoming events as well as discuss the successes and challenges of implementing E4C's provision within their settings. Participants said they left the session feeling inspired and energised—returning to their schools with many new ideas as well as pride in what they have achieved as part of E4C to date! We are really looking forward to our next meeting over Zoom on 15.05.2023.

LEAD FACILITATORS

If you are interested in becoming an E4C Lead Facilitator, supporting schools to complete an initial self-evaluation by identifying strengths and areas for development, do get in touch.

You will need to attend the following sessions:

May 2023 – Half-day initial training

Summer 2/Autumn 1 – Half-day visit to assigned school and additional time to complete evaluation (approx. an afternoon)

Autumn 2 - 1 hour zoom call with assigned school following evaluation

CONTENT CREATOR

Final Call for Content Creators!

E4C is looking for Content Creators to create of curriculum experiences and resources, which will support educators to engage with issues of race, racism, diversity and inclusion within the current DfE approved curriculum, ensuring that they are fit for purpose and in line DfE stipulations. As part of your role as E4C Content Creator, you will be required to attend 3 full-day planning sessions over the course of the academic year to help E4C continue to grow its curriculum offer for schools – this planning session will take place on a weekend/holiday work.

This is a paid position

WOW! THANKS FOR SHARING...

Staff members from St Luke's CEVA Primary School were invited to attend the Stephen Lawrence 30th Memorial Service. Whilst there, they met Baroness Floella Benjamin – an inspiring individual who Year 4 pupils learnt about as part of their Justice work!

Thank you so much for sharing this, St Luke's – we bet the pupils were so excited to hear about meeting someone who they had just studied!
